COLORING BOOK

SPRING 2020

MADISON FIELDS

MADISON FIELDS

It's important that we continue growing together even when we cannot spend time together! Our team compiled this coloring book as a special resource to bring the spirit of Madison Fields to your homes!

Please enjoy the following pages, designed to encourage you to color, learn, and create!

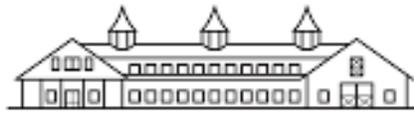

- THE MADISON FIELDS TEAM

MADISON FIELDS

Jasper has been a Therapeutic Riding horse for over 6 years!

MADISON FIELDS

The Farrier shapes our horse's hooves every eight weeks!

MADISON FIELDS

Madison Fields stores extra hay in this 18th century bank barn. Can you guess what farm animals used to call this barn home?! I'll give you a hint: they 'moo!'

MADISON FIELDS

Our miniature donkey, Wyatt, loves to munch on his hay!

MADISON FIELDS

Madison Fields horses get exercised between lessons to keep their muscles strong for Therapeutic Riding!

MADISON FIELDS

Stinky makes friends with a service dog at Warrior Canine Connection's 'Eye Day'!

MADISON FIELDS

Ginger Spice loves to make friends and make people smile at Children's National Hospital!

MADISON FIELDS

Maggie and Polly
are all smiles after a great ride!

MADISON FIELDS

Dakota waits patiently while his rider reaches to put a ring on the 'T-bar.'

MADISON FIELDS

Lua and Josie share a drink at the water trough. On average, horses drink 5-10 gallons of water, while Donkeys drink 2.5 to 6 gallons of water every day!

MADISON FIELDS

Stinky shares a candy cane with one of his favorite Hippotherapy riders after a great session!

MADISON FIELDS

Stinky loves to take afternoon naps in his stall! In order to sleep deep enough to have a dream, horses must lay down. They sleep in 20-minute increments!

MADISON FIELDS

Our volunteers use curry combs, hard brushes, soft brushes, and hoof picks to keep our horse's coats shiny and their hooves clean!

MADISON FIELDS

Shay says "Thank you" when one of her favorite riders brings her a gift! What's in the bag?
Apples, carrots, and cookies, oh my!

MADISON FIELDS

A horse-savvy volunteer helps keep our horses exercised when riders aren't in session!

MADISON FIELDS

Madison Fields equines enjoy 18 hours of pasture time every day so they have plenty of time to eat forage and socialize with their friends!

MADISON FIELDS

Pre-school campers love riding backwards! It's fun to see our world from different perspectives!

MADISON FIELDS

A Thursday rider gives her horse lots of attention before a great lesson! Lesson horses build strong relationships with their riders!

MADISON FIELDS

Our oldest miniature horse, Nutmeg, loves when volunteers feed her breakfast and give her extra attention!

MADISON FIELDS

At Madison Fields, our amazing animals keep all of our hearts happy! We can't wait to see you all soon!
